Background and Objectives

The 26th International Symposium “Research – Education – Technology” is hosted by the University of Applied Sciences Stralsund, Faculty of Mechanical Engineering on the 26th to 27th September 2024.

Herewith we invite our academic friends and industrial partners to take part in this unique event. We are looking forward to presenting excellent projects or research work performed in the frame of current research and development activities.

The principle objectives of the conference are as follows:

- ❑ Presentation of the latest achievements in mechanical engineering e.g. to enable joint applications for European grants
- ❑ Transfer of experience and information in the field of implementation of European curricula in academic education at technical universities
- ❑ Industrial implementation of research results
- ❑ Establishing of new personal contacts and strengthening of existing relations between scientists
