And after graduation?

Having achieved the TDS „Master of Arts“ you are qualified to work in a large variety of fields ranging from national and international tourism companies and institutions to other industries.

Strategy and development are truly key to our program so that graduates will be well prepared to become specialists in tourism or in management positions.

Potential job roles: destination management, tourism product development and business development, tourism and consulting, marketing and sales, key account and yield management, communication and events, science and research.

Our University

Hochschule Stralsund - University of Applied Sciences is a young and innovative campus university in the northeast of Germany. With its modern facilities, an excellent staff-to-student ratio and the fantastic location right next to the Baltic Sea, HOST offers the best conditions for studying, research and quality of life.

All lecture halls, seminar rooms, laboratories, the library and cafeteria as well as various sports facilities and a large number of student apartments, are located directly on the campus of the university.

Individual supervision and the close ties to practice are the key to study success. That's why HOST regularly manages to gain top positions in different national university rankings.

HOST specifically supports international exchange in studying, teaching and research.

Several programs can also be offered as dual courses of study with in-depth practical components. The main goal is a better network between theory and practice.

And: the university does not only have a relaxed atmosphere, but is also family-friendly and fully accessible for disabled people. That's what you call a HOST!
