Description

Haman Group has two offices: one in Stockholm and one in Oslo. We have about 50 full-time employees from more than 15 different countries.

You will be a part of the Purchasing Department located in Stockholm. This department has all the contact with our suppliers: hotels, guides, cruise companies, restaurants et cetera.

Your role is to immerse yourself in our cooperation with different suppliers, evaluate supplier contracts and pricing, analyze statistics, and administrate our internal booking system.

You will among others gain practical knowledge in the following:

- The international tour operator sector and tourism supply chain
- Product development
- Negotiation
- Account and destination management
- Working with statistics

You will also have the chance to participate in supplier meetings, site inspections, product webinars as well as complete a course in sustainable tourism. There is a possibility to work on a personal project in relation to the internship for a maximum of 1 day per week, should this be a university requirement.

Length of the Internship is 6 months.

This is how former trainee Alexandra describes her experience as a trainee at the Stockholm office of Haman Group:

“During the internship I was able to set a foot in the working world of the tourism industry. I applied method and principles learnt in school and I improved personal as well as professional skills. I have developed a real sense of structure and prioritisation which were essential in my daily work. I believe I have improved a set of cross disciplinary skills such as organizational flexibility, time management-efficiency or online and offline communication. Thanks to the support and help of my colleagues and supervisors, I was part of the team, and my tasks were completely integrated in the work process of the company. I could see the results of my tasks on a short but also long term. I was given important tasks that gave the sense of responsibility. Going from the purchase to the sales department allowed me to get a better understanding of the inner workings of a tour operator company and exposed me to a broad knowledge that I consider useful for a future career in this industry. I got to learn a lot about the Scandinavian destinations but also about the markets that are interested into it. Therefore, my internship with the Haman Group was a chance and great opportunity, whether it was on a personal or professional level.”
